The Lima Heraldo has ceased to be published, owing to the fact that no liberty was accorded to the press by President Castilla, and the Commercio merely issues such articles as suit the existing Government. were sold at auction on Friday according to law. The bidding was spirited, and the sale was really as animated as such things are in the United States.

It will be recollected that about a year ago, a man named George Gomer was arrested in this city on the charge of having sold to the houses of Brown, Brothers & Co., and McKim & Co., forged bills of exchange our to the amnunt of $4,300 for which he paid a bill of exchange perporting to be from the hands of Rothschild & Cohen and payable in England. The flour was shipped to New York where that too was sold and the proceeds paid over to Louis Rechard, the name he had there assumed. He next went to St. Louis where he succeeded in selling forged bills of exchange on the same house to the amount of $18,000, to the banking house of Messrs. Clarke, Dodge & Co., as soon as they discovered the swindle, the police of New York were put on the alert and sometime since he was arrested and thrown into prison, and on Tuesday of last week was taken to St. Louis for trial. On searching his premises but $2,500 were found secreted in a blank book, the leaves between which the notes were placed having been pasted together at the edges. From advices received in this city here is no doubt his real name is Beaumi a native of Martinique, whence he was banished for smuggling and his vessel confiscated. He speaks English and French fluently and is a shrewd business man. In his various forgeries he has used the name of Alexander Grev, J. Imbart, Maline Dutton, Louis Rechard, and Adrian de George. It is said that he has a wife living in Martinique but when he left that place he took with him the daughter of a wealthy Italian merchant. How much he has obtained by his forgeries it is impossible to tell, but there is no doubt the amount is between $50,000 and $100,000. It is to be hoped that justice will now be done him and that he will be accommodated with quarters where his faculty of imitation will not avail him except for the benefit of the State tion which of late has so signally bioseoused in the ruffiantly achievement of Brooks."

This is emphafically a work of our age. It is history in the guise of fiction, history whose accuracy is attested by public records and State documents. Each character is a living reality. It is a book eminently suggestive of much needed moral reforms. It is not sectional. It hits North and South. It shows the social ceils generated by Slavery in the one, and by neglected poverty in the other. It pictures the follies and vious of worn-out Southern chivairy; the crimes of the forsaken werethes in the Fire Points; and the sordid sin which luxurates in our palaces It portrays how those whom the world regards as beasons illuminating the path of virtue, groved in sensuality—sought and loved for its own sake; while the neglected of the word, in their depths of degradation, yet emit some rays—foebie though they be—of a seni within. In fine, it teaches the practical lesson—that it would become the great to learn how a true use of their wealth and influence may benefit poor failen humanity.
